

Project/Independent Study Registration Guidelines

Updated in October 2023

Independent study is a course that a student is taking under a faculty. There is a syllabus and course schedule for this. There could be assignments and exams for this course. Independent study is graded just like any other course.

A project is an implementation or theoretical development addressing a specific problem. It is graded based on learning, effort, and deliverables.

Guidelines for Project / Independent Study Registration:

- Students can do any number of projects/independent study under Programme/CS/Open elective categories. However, only 6 credits / 4 credits (for PG) earned this way can be counted towards the programme completion requirement.
- In any given semester, students can register a maximum of 6 credits / 4 credits (for PG) of projects / independent study including honours project credits.
- Note that students can register for a maximum of 6 credits / 4 credits (for PG) of projects/independent study under one faculty in a semester, including Honours project/BTP credits.
- More than 2 projects worth a total of 6 Credits (for UG) / 4 credits (for PG) in a semester is NOT ALLOWED.
